Fifteen civilians were killed by the Sri Lankan Air Force aerial bombing on 2 January 2007 of the Padahuthurai village in the Mannary district. A further 37 civilians were seriously injured many were maimed for life.

We visited the affected area and took affidavits from members of the families of those affected.

We have not included the death certificates because these are yet to be finalized.

Statements were also obtained from community and religious leaders who were eyewitness to the attack and who visited the area immediately after the attack.

Padahuthurai bombing

On 2nd January 2007

Padahuthurai is a fishing village located in Mannar district, 20 Kilometers northeast of the Mannar town. The Padahuthurai fishing community is made up of about 35 tight knit extended families. It is a Christian community with a small church and a priest that served them. Most are refugees displaced from Jaffna in 1995 who decided to make this location their home. A further number of families from Jaffna joined them in 2006 as the death squads began killing people who supported the LTTE in Jaffna.

The Padahuthurai location was ideal for small scale fishing which most of the men in the community did in small manual boats. The Sri Lankan military positions across the sea in Mannar were always a threat to the community. However, the community was out of reach of the military's artillery range providing them a sense of safety. The community did fear aerial raids and were ready to run for safer places for the slightest warning.

On 1st January 2007, the New Year was celebrated by the community as most Christians in the island do. 2nd January was a relaxed day. For two hours, the people in the village heard the drone of the usual spy plane which concerned them but that was common. There was no noise of a bomber which would have send them scurrying for safety. At 9.35 with no pre-warning of the noise bombs began falling on the village.

Fifteen members of this tight knit village including 07 children were killed and 37 injured including 14 children. The all of the casualties were of civilians and property damages were that of the civilians. This has been confirmed by all those who visited the scene. Many international agencies including the Sri Lankan Monitoring Mission and the ICRC also visited the location immediately after.

Dear Sir,

Critical situation of medical supplies to District Hospital—Kilinochchi,

During our visit to the District Hospital at Kilinochchi in connection with the admission of seriously injured victims of the Sri Lankan Air-raid at Mullaitivu on 02.01.2007, we found that no drugs and basic essential like bandages, gauze, linen etc are available. The medical officer made us to understand the third Quarter’s supply for 2006 has not still been received. The Provincial Health Director, on communicating with this office, reports that the supply has been already dispatched in the stone at Vavuniya but awaiting approval by the Ministry of Defense.

This is a totally unacceptable position. Visa — a visa supply of medicines to civilian ambulances, Examination Laws and International Norms relating to health care of civilian rule over any military considerations in civilian matter. In the theatre of war, Eastern of Sri Lanka, where civilians get killed and injured in random and indiscriminate aerial bombing and shelling, essential drugs necessary for surgery and treatment must be readily available, cutting off any type of administrative bottle neck. It is ironic though, that the bottle neck here is the absolute minimum attitude and not the usual administrative inefficiency.

North East Secretariat on Human Rights (NESOH) seeks your timely intervention in this matter and requests that instructions be issued to your delegation here to act with our delay and provide an immediate, better stock, presenting the authorities not understanding.

Thanking you,

Yours sincerely,

Rev: Fr. M. X. Koonamparam

Mannar Bishop comments on the attack

An aerial bombardment took place on 2 January 2007 around 9.30am in the morning, in Iluppakkadavai in Mannar district, an area settled by refugees. A small settlement of 35 families displaced from Navanthurai in Jaffna in lived in a part of Iluppakkadavai. The aerial attack was carried out by three Kfir bombers with the help of a spy plane. I inspected 12 locations where a bomb had fallen.

There were unexploded bombs. The area that was attacked was with 100 metres from the sea. The 35 catholic families who lived in this small settlement were extremely poor. They lived in very small huts. There was also a catholic church in this location. It is very clearly visible. This village and the people who lived in this village are well known, to the priest of this church, P Arulnathan, to many of the other priests of the area, and to many catholic religious volunteers in the area. I went and inspected this place on 2 January at 12.45 noon. From speaking to the church priest, Arulnathan, other religious volunteers and from my own observation, I can say that neither in this area nor in its surroundings there are any military bunkers or LTTE camps. This is clearly a small settlement of poor catholic families.

The church priest on the attack

About 35 families displaced from Navanthurai were living in this Padahuthurai village. They were all fishermen who depended on the adjacent sea for their livelihood. They were all Catholics.

On 2 January 2007 at 9.30am, Kfir bombers attacked this village. Fifteen villagers were killed. A further 37 villagers were injured. There are no LTTE targets in this area. Indeed there are not even LTTE movements in this area. This area is inhabited by civilians. These people were very poor. Today, no one lives in this area. All the villagers have moved to Nachchikuda, another village where many of their relatives live.
Village head who witnessed the attack

We are innocent civilians. We lived within a very small land area as families in small huts. Though poor we were very happy. We are all related to each other. On 2 January 2007 at 9.30am three Kfir bombers attacked our village.

We were terrified for the sound of bomb explosions and to see our homes burning. Once the Kfirs left, we heard cries from all around. My wife and son who were near me were lying in a pool of blood. In a short while people from the neighbouring villages and our priest came and sent the injured to the hospital.

Fifteen of our relatives were killed and another 37 were injured. Our homes and possessions were all destroyed. Now, without any home, we are living with relatives and in camps. We still do not know why this attack targeted us.
